As Marian High School reaches its 40th anniversary, this Madrigal serves as a view to the evolution of the Knights through the 20th century, the millennium, and to the present. Though activities and traditions have undergone drastic change, students of the past and of the present bear a striking resemblance in their core values, representing Christ-like attitudes and bringing the Christian atmosphere to life. With a new principal and a new outlook, Marian High School strives to uphold the high standards we have achieved in the past, and hopes to improve continually in defining who we are as Marian Knights.

Homecoming 2004

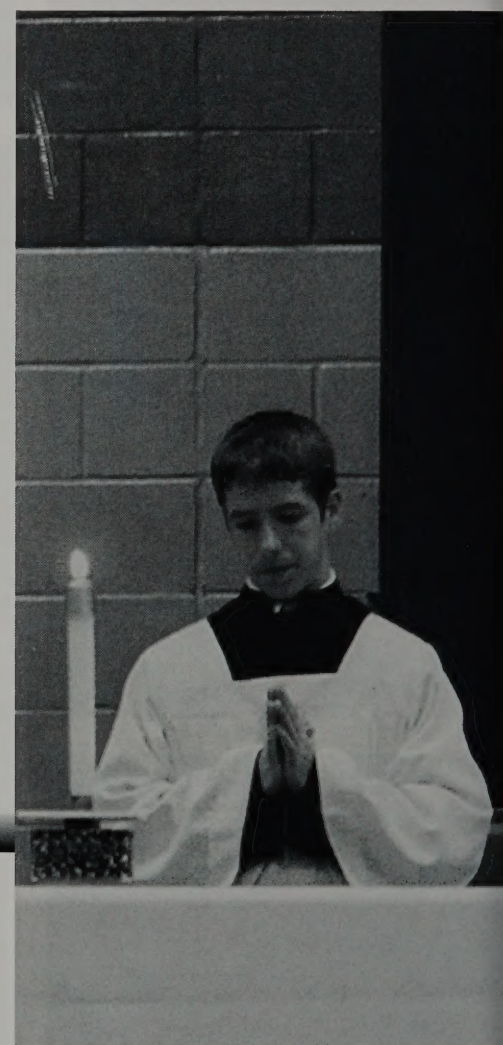

This year's Homecoming promised new memories and revolutionary changes brought on by Student Council. To increase the incentive of students to attend the dance, Student Council arranged dance lessons to teach moral dancing techniques. Preceding the big game were different events during the week to pump up the Knights. Events included Christmas day, Marian spirit day, class color day, and movie star day. The extracurricular homecoming happenings included the annual Bonfire, which was capped off by the hot dog eating contest, tug-of war, and a balloon shaving contest. On Friday of the Homecoming Game, the Pep Rally prepared the students and the football team for the game that night against Gary Wallace. That night, halftime brought a dazzling presentation of this year's Court, listed at the bottom left of the spread. Once seniors Andy Clark and Hopey Bueno were crowned King and Queen, the night marked the beginning of these two royal Knights' reign over the student body.

Catholic Identity

As a small Catholic community focused on Christ-like behavior, Marian High School prides itself on emphasizing both academic and spiritual growth. This emphasis is reflected in the monthly celebration of Liturgy throughout the school year, as well as on holidays such as Thanksgiving and Christmas. This year, chaplain Father Dan Scheidt celebrated daily Mass during the Lenten season as well. Campus Ministry advisor Carol Miller arranged a new Living Stations, acted out by Marian seniors to bring the Passion of Christ to life. Each class attended their annual retreat, with the seniors attending an overnight retreat. The seniors also focused on spiritual growth in their last few months by celebrating Senior Mass, a service attended exclusively by seniors and a few faculty and staff. In May, Mary was crowned in the traditional ceremony, followed in June by the Commencement Mass at Marian, and Baccalaureate Mass at St. Matthew Cathedral Parish to end the school year.

Marian Spirit

In more than one way, Marian students proudly flaunted their school spirit throughout the school year. During Homecoming and Spirit Week, students displayed spirit by dressing up in the theme of the day, and by taking part in the pep assemblies that concluded the weeks. By wearing Marian High School's colors of royal blue, silver, and white, the Knights showed school support on and off the field. Whether cheering on the football team during the cold rainy nights of fall, or by simply doing their best in various athletic and scholastic competitions, the Knights proved their valor by outperforming the competition year-round.

Spirit Week 2005

Spirit Week kicked off February with the traditional hall decorating contest, judged on Tuesday of Spirit Week, naming the Seniors winners with their Back Alley theme. Other themes included the Freshmen theme of Napoleon Dynamite, the Sophomores' theme of Island Paradise, and the Juniors' theme of Black Night. During the week, students also showed off their spirit by dressing down according to that day's theme, such as Western Day, Back to the Future Day, and Class Color Day. At the Pep Rally, a game putting the Marian basketball team against "Riley" was staged, and Knight cheerleaders faced off against the "Riley" cheerleaders. The Spirit Couch was raffled off once again, showcasing prime seats to the Spirit Week basketball game against Riley. At halftime, Chris Ketcham and Anni Quiett were named Spirit King and Queen.

Auction 2005

This year's auction, following the theme of "A Picture Perfect Evening," was a huge success for both St. Joseph and Marian High School. Combining their efforts to make the night worthwhile, students from both schools worked the coat check, helped out in the kitchen, served as waiters, ran valet parking, and held auction signs all evening. Marian students also assisted in the accounting and record keeping operations.

The Man Who Came to Dinner

Freshmen and seniors alike rocked the audience's socks with this year's performance of The Man Who Came to Dinner written by George S. Kaufman and Moss Hart. Chaos and hilarity ensued when the deviant personality of Sheridan Whiteside, played by Rance Gohn, clashed with the quiet Stanley family of 1930's suburbia. The cast played a slew of ridiculous characters, from crotchety old celebrities to manipulative starlets to lovestruck secretaries. Kaufman and Hart's clever script provided many surprises throughout the night, especially when Mr. Andrzejewski and Mr. Grosz made surprise appearances as convicts. The four performances signaled a spectacular run, and the Marian Drama Department proved once again that they can still bring the house down.

Crazy for You!

George Gershwin's beloved melodies, a humorous story about a stage-struck playboy in a Nevada mining town, and show-stopping musical numbers added up to another crowd-pleasing Marian Drama offering. With all the spirited singing, dancing, and acting, (as the song says) "Who Could Ask for Anything More?"

2004-2005 was Marian Hockey's best year yet. For the second year Marian played in 5A, the very top state level, an achievement yet to be attained by any other hockey team in the city. The season posted several highs including winning the MSHSL preseason, the St. Charles Thanksgiving Classic, the Fort Wayne Holiday Classic, the MSHSL league championship and the MSHSL Eastern City Championship, and attaining a ranking of 4th in the state.

Scholastically, the team was qualified as well, as seniors Brian Kantor, David Murray and Carl Seitz won Academic All State. Senior David Murray broke a career team record with 315 total goals and 209 total assists, and MSHSL honored him as the first recipient of MVP of the league.

The Marian girls' golf team capped off an outstanding 2004 season. The girls won sectionals at Eberhart, and the NIC tournament at Oak Hills and even regionals at Beechwood! They also brought several trophies to Marian. The winning season peaked with the defeating of the to-be-state champions, the Penn Kingsmen. Britt Knutson was the first girl golfer in Marian history to be named All-State. Other tremendous individual honors included: First Team NIC-Britt Knutson, Jacque Speece, and Jillian Speece; Second team NIC-Claire Shearer; Honorable mention NIC-Courtney Walter.

We Are...Editors

A Marian student is so many things. Each person possesses a different set of values, lifestyles, talents, and beliefs.

Every person who walks through these doors, holding his or her distinct personal traits, prepares to be formed into a young Christian adult. The ability to express one's Catholic identity is what makes Marian a school unlike any other in Mishawaka. We were not only ready to go on to college and face academic challenges, but we were prepared to mold ourselves and others in God's eyes. We are amazing individuals who will change the lives of thousands of people we come in contact with throughout our time on earth. We hope this Madrigal portrays for some the beginning and for others the end of their Marian life. May this memoir help you recall those times, places, and people who influenced your life.

Madrigal 2005 Editors:

Shannon Egan

Marg Garascia

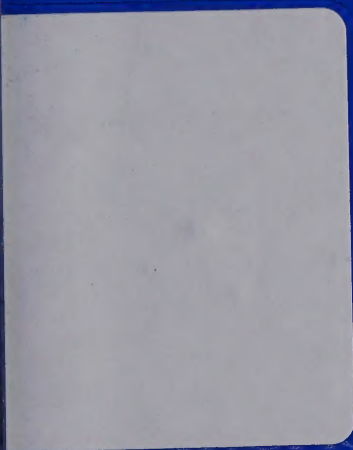

Lauren Kreager

(Advisor's Note: Shannon, Marg, and Lauren lavished creativity, diligence, and care on this 2005 Madrigal in order to produce a yearbook worthy of Marian's 40th Anniversary celebration. They have succeeded admirably, and they have the endless thanks of the Marian community, and my sincere gratitude for their job well done. God bless you, 2005 Editors, as you continue to become even more accomplished Marian alumni.
